

ACTIVITIES

The aim of this international network is to gather together european research groups working on molecular oxides to exchange their complementary knowledge and approaches in order to push forward the frontiers of polyoxometalate chemistry. Therefore the IRN-POM action is to organize joint seminars, workshops, summer (or winter) schools and mobilities between partners.

To know more about the IRN-POM activities: see IRN Meetings and Short stays

